The term villa was always used to describe the house in the countryside, while the town, palace, this became the rule in Venice.

We recommend you to visit Posillipo, Martellina and Via Caracciolo, the coast, Santa Lucia (a picturesque fishing village) Castel dell'Ovo, the Royal Palace, San Carlo theatre, Umberto I Gallery and Angioino Keep. The visit proceeds to Solfatara, with a visit to the still active crater.

NAPLES UNDERGROUND

www.napolisotterranea.org

The origins of Naples, admired by a legendary halo, are dated back from history. Caves were dugged in basements to extract the tuff and to shelter the holy rites of the first inhabitants. On the basis of Piazza San Gaetano, which is not other than the place of the market of former Naples, one will discover a city in the city. In San Lorenzo Maggiore one will see another archaeological zone where workshops were discovered, tabernacles and the seat of Aeriaum, where the public Treasury of the city was preserved.

CASERTA

Caserta is known for the famous Reggia, but the city offers the possibility to very interesting visits, as its ancient history and its development, which is derived from the various folks who have benefited from the rich territory, before it was occupied by the Samnites, and later by Romans and Lombards, and in the middle Ages by the Byzantines, Swabia and Catalans. But it was the Bourbon, one of the largest and most important royal houses of Europe, which decided in 1750 to build the Royal Palace, since it was necessary to have a residence that was as far as possible from the sea to seek protection in case of attack. A visit to the Royal Palace in Caserta is breathtaking. It starts with apartments in the palace, the park, between Italian and English gardens with beautiful fountains, waterfalls and forests. The visit of the Interior is without tourist guide.

From the port of "Marina Grande", there is a funicular that takes visitors to the "Piazzetta" which thanks to its elegant boutiques and characteristic narrow streets is an obligatory stop for all shopping enthusiasts. Also very popular are Villa San Michele and Museum, and the Charterhouse of Saint James. A typical visit. Departure by ferry from Sorrento to Capri and a tour of the island by private bus. In Anacapri the tour will visit Villa San Michele and there will be a walk to the Gardens of Augustus, where there are spectacular panoramic views of the famous Faraglioni rocks.

AMALFI COAST

Puglia, Basilicata, Calabria

PUGLIA

BARI

Although this is a large, modern-looking city, it was already, founded in the pre-Roman period. A wonderful group of Romanesque churches encircles the old town centre and Bari retains the atmosphere, narrow uphill streets, stone steps and walls of a compact, mediaeval hamlet standing on a small peninsula that divides the harbor in two, with three churches in the centre.

A typical itinerary for a half day visit.

The Basilica of Saint Nicholas, a popular place of pilgrimage, Svevo Castle and the Cathedral of Saint Sabino.

IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF THE TEMPLERS, VISIT TO SOVERETO

It is one of the most attractive and mysterious places of this ground. A very small and old borough, where time passes in an unreal silence. This place, already known in antiquity, has been seen as sacred (in the surroundings there are menhirs or "pietrefittes", testimonies of old worships). But the charm of this place is the medieval complex which includes a small medieval church and what remained of a hospital which used to have cruisers and pilgrims directly from the Holy Land. Its history crosses, without any doubt, with the Templers who were very present in this area. And one of them, called Romaldo de Bolenae who was the Tutor of the Templers, has been buried in this small church (today private property). But with his sepulchral inscription, the mystery starts. There was written "preceptor" and not "praeceptor" as it would have been written. And considering that the events of Templers were connected to that of Graal, somebody supposed that it is about a contributing message to give useful indications to his discovery...

LECCE

This city is mainly famous for its extraordinary Baroque architecture, whose exuberant decorations are supported by the nature of the local stone, which is golden and soft to the scalpel.

A typical itinerary for a half day visit.

Porta Napoli, Via Calmieri, Piazza Duomo and the Cathedral, the Bishop's Palace and Seminary, Piazza S. Oronzo, the Basilica of the Holy Cross, the Museum of the Roman Theatre, San Matteo and the old town centre.

CASTEL DEL MONTE

This is the most beautiful building in Puglia and one of the most delightful mediaeval castles ever built. Its characteristic features include the perfect balance of its eight towers, commissioned by Frederick II in 1240.

ALBEROBELLO

This interesting and particularly picturesque town consists entirely of famous

"trulli" (there are about a thousand); low buildings with a conical roof.

CASTELLANA CAVES

Thanks to their immense size and depth and the numerous stalagmites and stalactites, they are without doubt the most spectacular caves in Italy. They are 60 meters under ground and extend for around 3 km.

TARANTO
